ALL ARE CALLED TO BE SAINTS

(All Saints Day 1st November)

Deacon Denzyl Luis Pereira sfx

For nearly 300 hundred years after the foundation of the Church, it suffered persecution after persecution. Many Christians chose death rather than renouncing their faith. They were called “Martyrs” because they gave witness to Christ who is God and the Saviour of all the people. They did this not only through their words and deeds, but also by laying down their life for Christ. Later Christians started venerating these martyrs and payed homage to their tombs, convinced that they had already attained eternal life and prayed that they may intercede with God for the people still living on earth. Gradually Church started venerating not only those Christians who shed their blood for Christ, but also others who while living on earth has lived virtuous life and had a natural death. They were called “Saints”, that is people who served God faithfully while living on earth and to whom God rewarded with the joy of heaven at their death. Each saint was given each special day where all would venerate them but the number of saints and martyrs were going on increasing day after day. This led the Church to establish a feast in their honour. That is how “The feast of all Saints” began to be celebrated in the Church.

The Church was moved by the Holy Spirit to establish this feast for two purposes.

1. To praise God for showing us the way to heaven through saints and martyrs by their exemplary life.
2. To encourage people to be faithful in their Christian life and be strong in faith in spite of human weakness, temptations and persecutions.

We are all called to be saints while living in this world. Some of us are Engineers, Doctors, Farmers, Priests, nuns, young, Old, Married, Unmarried, healthy, sick and so on. Yet with all these differences we have a common goal as Christians that whatever we may be or wherever we may be, we are all called to be saints so as to get ready to share in Christ's very life and joy in heaven.

As we venerate all the saints, let us follow their exemplary lives and let us say to ourselves that not only we can but we all must be saints and be united with triune God in heaven.

REWRITING DESTINY

Linken Fernandes

It goes without saying that it is a terrible fate to be blind, or deaf, or to be physically or mentally disabled in some other way. But what if you have several disabilities together, say, you are blind, deaf and mute at the same time? What a life it must be, to be unable to be wholly and fully human, unable to experience the world around us and communicate our thoughts and feelings in the way that most of us take for granted.

It doesn't call for extraordinary empathy to gauge how tough life must be for someone with impaired faculties, especially before some degree of mind has formed and the language and the words have been acquired with which to develop a sense of self and to understand what reality is. Hearing and sight, we know, are fundamental to the imitation so vital for the learning necessary for socialization and survival. How do we reach such a person, how do we get them to communicate and talk, and to figure out the world around us as normal people do?

Someone managed this remarkable feat over a hundred years ago, without recourse to the apps and other devices that make physical handicaps so much less unbearable today. Not only did she help a blind, deaf and mute girl understand the concept of a letter, a word, a sentence, and, eventually, to read, write, and talk a little, but enabled her to become a graduate and to write books and to give lectures all over the world!

How did she do this? How did she set free the little girl's mind trapped in a body entirely closed to the life and reality around her? Think about it for a moment and try figure out how one might accomplish this. It is possible that you have an inkling about the process that was involved from a school text or some other source. If not, do google (or watch on You tube) the story of Annie Sullivan, the miracle worker who liberated the mind of Helen Keller that may, otherwise, have remained forever walled in from the world around her.

DIWALI – A TIME FOR CELEBRATION , A TIME OF REFLECTION

*By Vinola Fernnades,
Villa Formosa*

Deepavali or Diwali ,popularly known as the "festival of lights," is a five day Hindu festival.

Diwali involves the lightning of small clay lamps filled with oil to signify the triumph of good over evil. Firecrackers are burst because it is believed that it drives away evil spirits. The light of Diwali should be within us. It should symbolise the personal relationship between God and our families, between God and us.

As preparations are made for Diwali every room of the house is cleansed. But what about our hearts ?When was the last time we swept out our hearts?? When did We Last empty them of all the dirt and garbage that has accumulated throughout our lives? This is the real cleaning We must do. This is the real meaning of "starting fresh".We must clean out our hearts and get rid of darkness and bitterness, grudges , pain and anger that clutter our ability to love freely and make them clean and sparkling places for God to live. God sees all and knows all. He knows what is behind every wall of our hearts , what is swept into every corner, and what is hidden.

During Diwali ,all people wear new clothes and share snacks with family members and friends. People are happy. Let us ask God to make us happy where ever we are help us to be instruments of peace.

In Diwali people begin a new cheque book . What about our lives? When do we renew Ourselves? The time is now. So let us begin now. Just as we give our past cheque Books and the first cheque of the New one to God, let us give our entire plus and minutes points to him. He is the one responsible for all our good deeds .Our bad ones are only due to our ignorance .Let us turn everything to him, place our strengths and weaknesses at his Holy feet and then Let us start afresh with a new book, without old grudges and bitterness.

God's presence in our lives will make us rich .It will bring light to our lives and a sparkle to our eyes and Let us fill Our entire beings with the light of God.

HAPPY CHILDREN'S DAY

Irwin Antao, Culsabhat

Children's Day also known as 'Bal Diwas' is celebrated every year in India on Nov. 14 to commemorate the birth anniversary of India's first Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. The Children' Day is meant to acknowledge the unique needs and talents of every child and create a safe and supportive environment for them to thrive.

"The Children of today will make the India of tomorrow. The way we bring them up will determine the future of our country" these were the golden words of Chacha Nehru. As the country grapples with issues such as child labour, child trafficking, child abuse, gender bias etc., the Children's day serves as a reminder to all of us to work together as responsible citizens to address these problems and create a better future for them.

Some of the great quotes about children:

"The first happiness of a child is to know that he is loved" Don Bosco

"The greatest legacy one can pass on to our children is not money and material things but rather a legacy of character and faith" Billy Graham

"Children are not things to be moulded but are people to be unfolded" Jess Lair.

One of the favourite inspirational Bible verses in Mathews 19:14 Jesus said "Let the little children come to me and do not hinder them for the kingdom of Heaven belongs to such as these". Let not the Children's day be just a symbolic gesture but a day that reflects the importance of children and their rights. Do not educate them to be rich, educate them with morals and faith in God, so that when they grow up, they inculcate the values of love, peace and compassion.

A child once wrote in his essay "My wish" that he wants to be a smartphone cause his parents love the phones so much that they hardly care him at home and listen to his problems. The best inheritance the parents can give their children is their love, time and compassion each day, as they are most precious creations that God has given us.

On this day, let us also pledge to protect our children from addiction of mobile phones who misuse them limitlessly and also from risky and inappropriate contents of the digital world ..

Children light up our lives,

With laughter & cheerful smiles,

Give them your love, faith, & time,

To bloom, blossom, rise and shine

"Happy Children's Day"

PRESENTATION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

*Brenda Savio D'Siva
Culsabhat*

November 21st is celebrated as the feast of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Mary's presentation was celebrated in Jerusalem in the sixth century. A Church was built there in honour of this mystery. In the 16th century it became a feast of the Universal Church.

As with Mary's birth, we read of Mary's presentation in the temple only in apocryphal literature. The Protoevangelium of James tells us that Anna and Joachim offered Mary to God in the Temple when she was 3 years old. This was to fulfil a promise made to God when Anna was still childless.

Mary's presentation has an important theological purpose. It continues the impact of the feasts of the Immaculate Conception and the birth of Mary. It emphasizes that the holiness conferred on Mary from the beginning of her life continued through her early childhood and beyond.

Let us realise that children are a gift from God and we dedicate our children to God in gratitude because all life comes from God and bless all parents to realise this as we seek blessing for all children and everyone.
